Challenges and Future Considerations:

While the practice of knowledge sharing sessions has yielded substantial benefits, there are a few challenges to consider:

1. Time Commitment: Faculty members must balance their teaching and administrative responsibilities with preparing for and participating in these sessions. Careful time management is essential.

2. Ensuring Inclusivity: Efforts should be made to ensure that all faculty members, regardless of their department or seniority, have an opportunity to contribute and benefit from these sessions.

3. Assessment and Measurement: Establishing metrics to evaluate the impact of knowledge sharing sessions on teaching quality and student outcomes can be challenging but is important for continuous improvement.

Conclusion:
